

Comparing CCPA and CPRA

The CPRA was passed on November 3, 2020. Below is a chart comparing the CCPA and the CPRA and some of the key differences between the two. There is also a chart outlining the timeline for the CPRA now that it has passed.

PRIVACY LAW ELEMENT	CCPA	CPRA
Right to Know What Information a Business Has Collected	✓	✓
Right to Opt Out of Sale of Personal Information	✓	✓
Right to Deletion	✓	✓
Implement Reasonable Security Measures	✓	✓
Data Portability	✓	✓
Special Protections for Minors	✓	✓
“Do Not Sell My Information” Opt Out Link	✓	✓
Employee and Business-to-Business Exemptions	✓	✓
Consumer Privacy Fund	✓	✓
Cross-Context Behavioral Advertising Definition and Restrictions	✗	✓
Sensitive Personal Information Definition and Restrictions	✗	✓
“Limit the Use of My Sensitive Personal Information” Link	✗	✓
Right to Opt Out of Geolocation Data (<1/3 mile)	✗	✓
Right to Correct Inaccurate Information	✗	✓
Storage Limitation Requirements and Retention Period Notice Requirement	✗	✓
Notice Requirements for “Profiling” and “Automated Decision Making”	✗	✓
Establishes California Privacy Protection Agency to Protect Consumers	✗	✓
Contractor or Service Provider Sub-Processor Obligations	✗	✓
Penalties If Email Plus Password Stolen Due to Negligence	✗	✓
Requires High Risk Data Processors to Perform Regular Cybersecurity Audits and Risk Assessments	✗	✓

CPRA Timeline

